

Learn the Java programming language.
Solve interesting problems.
Meet online with other students from NM.
Earn three credits for college.

WHO? High school students who will be freshmen, sophomores or juniors in August of 2008.

WHAT? Online Advanced Placement Computer Science, Part A, developed by experienced high school computer science teachers from New Mexico and supported by the Supercomputing Challenge. An outline is available.

WHEN? Enrollment opens in August, 2008

WHERE? On your computer at school or at home

WHY? Get a jump start on college and your career!

CONTACT: Interested in applying and learning more?
Email consult@challenge.nm.org before June 2.

The Challenge is your avenue for advanced placement classes in computer science, math and science.